Capital Adequacy

Bank First (formerly Victoria Teachers Mutual Bank) is regulated by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA). APRA is the prudential regulator of the Australian financial services industry. It oversees banks, credit unions and building societies (authorised deposit taking institutions), general insurance and reinsurance companies, life insurance, friendly societies, and most members of the superannuation industry. All authorised deposit-taking institutions (ADIs) are required to hold sufficient capital to cover unanticipated losses.

As set out in Prudential Standard APS110 Capital Adequacy:

“Capital is the cornerstone of an ADI’s financial strength. It supports an ADI’s operations by providing a buffer to absorb unanticipated losses from its activities and, in the event of problems, enables the ADI to continue to operate in a sound and viable manner while the problems are addressed or resolved. The Board of directors (Board) of an ADI has a duty to ensure that the ADI maintains an appropriate level and quality of capital commensurate with the level and extent of risks to which the ADI is exposed from its activities”.

APRA Prudential Standard APS 330 Public Disclosure requires all ADI’s including Bank First to display on its web site information on its capital position. These disclosures show the assets of the Bank, their appropriate risk weightings and the capital base. Capital Adequacy is calculated as total regulatory capital base divided by risk weighted assets. The minimum total regulatory capital ratio is 8%.
